MORNING EDITION.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Yesterday was State officers pray day.

The Penitentiary Board of Commissioners meet at the Penitentiary to-day.

The Board of Township Trustees of Raleigh Township will meet at the Mayor's office on Wednesday evening July 2nd.

The consideration of cases on the civil docket will be resumed to-day. Nothing of general importance transpired in the Court yesterday.

Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist, left for Vienna Saturday morning. Col. S. McD. Tate, of Morganton, will sail on the same vessel with Prof. Kerr.

Bankrupt notices are being sent out from the W. N. C. Railroad. The matter whether or not it shall be thrown into bankruptcy will be heard before Judge Dick at Chambers next Saturday.

J. T. Ball, mail agent between this place and Fayetteville, has been transferred to the route between Charlotte and Goldsboro, taking the place of F. P. Haywood. Mr. Haywood takes the place of Mr. Ball, on the Fayetteville route.

John Nichols, Esq., Principal of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, Col. John B. Neathery, the Governor's Private Secretary, and Donald W. Bain, Esq., Chief Clerk in the Treasury Department, will accompany our Fire Companies on their excursion to Fayetteville on the 4th.

Walking up street last night we were struck by the brilliancy of the gas in Messrs. Simpson & Co's., drug store—so different from the yellow light produced by the ordinary rosin gas. We find this fine light is produced by Major Bailey's gas machine. Not only does it give a better light, with no smoke to destroy the ceiling, but it is worked at less than half the cost of the other gas. See and believe.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.—The following decisions were filed by the Justices of the Supreme Court yesterday:

By SETTLE, J.

Daniel Cogdell, Assignee etc., vs. W. J. Exum, from Wayne. Judgment affirmed.

William Terrell et al., vs. Eliza A. Terrell, from Caswell. No error. Affirmed.

John Barringer vs. L. E. Barringer, from Cabarrus. Error in setting aside verdict of the jury. Cause remanded that Superior Court may proceed to judgment upon the verdict.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court of this State has reversed the decision of Judge Tourgee, recently made in the Superior Court of Orange county, in the case Ruffin vs. the Commissioners of Orange, as to the power of the State to tax United States Treasury notes and National Bank bills as money, also, solvent credits. The opinion of the Court was prepared by Justice Reade.

It will be remembered that Judge Tourgee held that neither United States Treasury notes nor National Bank bills were subject to taxation by the State, also that solvent credits were not taxable, as the deposit remained money either as United States Treasury notes, or National Bank bills.

We understand the Treasurer of State has invariably instructed the list-takers in the State to require tax payers to list their money on hand or on deposit, also their solvent credits, regarding it as his duty to see that the law was executed, as the law imposed a tax on these subjects.

We will publish the decision to-morrow.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.—Wm. P. Caldwell, Col. R. F. Armfield, D. W. Furches, and F. B. McDowell, of the Stateville bar, arrived in the city yesterday morning, and are in attendance upon the Supreme Court.

Commencement Exercises at the Wilson Collegiate Institute Last Week.

[BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.]

WELDON, N. C., June 28.

Dear News:—At your request, I am glad to give you some account of the interesting Commencement exercises in Wilson this week. You are aware that the flourishing Wilson Collegiate Institute, under charge of Prof. S. Hassell, and the meritorious Female Seminary of the Messrs. Hooper, finished their scholastic year on the 26th and 27th instant. The occasion drew out a large number of the sterling citizens of Eastern Carolina, and it was a delightful spectacle to see the fires of educational zeal rekindled in our borders.

Wilson Collegiate Institute is regularly chartered by the Legislature, with power to confer degrees upon its graduates. The buildings are very large, and well managed; the faculty nineteen in number, nine residing at all times within the Institute; and students for the past year numbered 137. This we think a fine record for a school of not two years duration. Its trustees are an able body of men, scattered through North-eastern Carolina, and showing the deepest interest in educational progress.

I learned that some friend had forwarded you a report of the address of Col. Thomas S. Kenan, of Wilson, before the Literary Societies on the evening of the 20th inst., and the lecture of Capt. C. B. Denson, of Pittsboro' upon "Recent Discoveries in Astronomy," delivered before the Institute and citizens Wednesday evening the 25th. * So I will briefly note the events of Thursday and Friday.

On Thursday afternoon the annual meeting of the Trustees of the Institute occurred, and subjects of much interest, in relation to the progress of this section in education were discussed.

At 8 P. M., the Female Seminary was crowded to overflowing, to hear the sweet music of the young ladies, who are the pupils of the Messrs. Hooper, and the entertainment gave universal satisfaction.

It will be gratifying to the numerous friends of the venerable Dr. Hooper and his learned and accomplished son, Prof. J. DeB. Hooper, to know that steps will shortly be taken to place the property where they are now located, in such condition as to enable them more fully to reap the rewards of their own labors. It has long been in litigation, which has deprived them of the opportunity of offering advantages other than their own faithful services in the school room, but public spirited citizens of Wilson have given assurances that it shall shortly be in the power of the Messrs. Hooper to offer every comfort to the young ladies during instruction.

Friday was Commencement Day at the Institute. Under charge of Profs. Brewer and Gillespie, the Chapel was beautifully decorated with evergreen arches, flowers, mottoes, charts, etc., and by 10 A. M., a large concourse had gathered to hear the orator of the day. Hon. Asa Biggs, of Norfolk. After a graceful introduction by George W. Blount, Esq., of Wilson, Judge Biggs spoke with earnest and dignified elocution that showed how dear to his heart was the deeply interesting theme. He was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause. We regret that we can offer but a meagre outline of his forcible and elegant address:

Judge Biggs, after adverting to the engrossing nature of his occupations and his recent illness as an apology for the brevity of his remarks, said he came to offer some sober reflections on the conditions of society and the needs of the age, as his contribution to the occasion.

He spoke of time and its resistless changes—the rise and fall of empires, the changes in law and religion with the progression of society, and the successive stages of human association. First, the theocratic order of civilization in the infant ages of the world—priests ruled kings, and there was neither social or personal freedom. The second stage was that of State supremacy, in which conquest and empire were the only glories, and the arts of peace were despised. The third stage is symbolized by the feudalism of the middle ages. In the present, while there is an appropriate liberalization theory and practice are apart—while the theory is one of enlightenment, the practice is worthy of savages.

The speaker referred to the changes of the era—the astonishing results produced by scientific invention, and the modifications of constitutional system. The theory of Republican government was advanced, but the greatest good to the greatest number was not secured. The demoralization of public men, and the corruption paralyzing every department of the government was portrayed by a master hand. "To whom, said he, do the people now look up with generous pride? Is there one of the great of the land, who has kept himself pure? If so, he is an extraordinary exception, and he is utterly powerless to avert the decline in public morality. Titles, stars and garters are nothing—privilege is everything. What greater titled privilege than to grasp the property of others, under the forms of law, without desire or intention to repay them for it? Corruption and oppression are making rapid strides to despotism. We are daily losing, and terribly. I would not be one to second a false alarm, but we must all take part to avert this fearful decline in public affairs. We must put on the brakes, or ruin is near.

The habits of our people have been modified by the velocity of the age. I would not discourage the applications of science to the needs of the day, nor would I underrate agricultural improvement. But have not our people erred in attempting to produce an enormous crop of cotton? The tendency to strive for sudden riches, the wish to obtain money by swift operations, and to outshine our neighbors—these are evil signs of the times.

Candor compels the assertion that even in religious progress, the path of departure is seen from the good old ways of old. The worship of God in our cities has become a mere means of worldly display, and fine churches and operatic music are prepared as necessities to attract a throng of worshippers to the meek and lowly Saviour.

Changes in educational efforts were alluded to, and the instruction of the sexes together in mixed schools was strongly approved, as the natural and rightful method of organizing scholastic institutions, approved of God from the beginning, and daily growing in favor with the best institutions of the land. The study of abstract truths was to be subordinated to the needs of a practical education and thorough moral development.

We should aim to secure well-bred men and women—not the affectation of gentlemen. Few books, and those well known, should be the students motto. The knowledge of experience and reflection are the most valuable.

The speaker then paid a glowing tribute to the honor and dignity of the teacher's vocation, and honestly advised the genuine respect for labor.

Let our young men, said he, regard the opportunity to labor for their own advancement as a privilege. Let our young women eschew extravagance and learn both science and the virtues of domestic economy.

A beautiful apostrophe to the spirit of womanhood followed these remarks, and it was warmly applauded by the audience.

Judge Biggs then closed by a parting address to the students, concluding as follows:

"I would encourage you to avail yourselves of all the means afforded you here to prepare you for the work of elevating the moral and intellectual standard of society wherever you may be cast.

Be honest, faithful and manly. Determine to put your faculties to practical and constant use for the benefit of your fellow man. As an old man I take the liberty to admonish the young. I congratulate this community on the establishment of this growing and useful seat of learning, and urge that it be sustained fully and thoroughly. May our children, and children's children rise up and call it blessed."

At 3 p. m. Rev. C. B. Hassell preached an able sermon to an attentive congregation at the Baptist church.

At nightfall the chapel of the institute was thronged with a large assemblage of the beauty and fashion of the surrounding country to witness the final exercises. The long programme we had before us is dotted everywhere with words of commendation, and we find it quite impossible to specify particular efforts where all gave such evidence of faithful training and earnest endeavor.

The declaimations of the young men were varied by the music from the young ladies—songs, duetts, choruses, etc. We have rarely witnessed a more brilliant scene.

We ought not to omit mention of the out desiring to disparage any one else, and indeed all the music reflected great credit upon the painstaking instructor, Mrs. Thompson.

Among the gentlemen we wish to pay a tribute to the fine effort of J. Franklin Farmer, who delivered "Cycles of Matter"; also that of Alison B. Deans, on "True Manliness."

Prof. Hassell presented the gratifying rrports of the past year, and delivered diplomas to the class graduating in Commercial Science, and a prize of an elegant gold pen to B. S. Forbes. In the A, or first class, the first distinctions was bestowed upon L. Alvin Clark, Jas. Franklin Farmer and Jno. Exum Woodward.

The last gentleman delivered a chaste and appropriate valedictory, in a style rarely excelled in similar efforts; in which he paid a just tribute to the noble qualities of the instructors of the Institute that have endeared them alike to the students and the people of Wilson.

The exercises closed with the chorus of "Home, Sweet Home," when the curtain fell upon one of the most interesting commencements that our section has ever known.

Wilson is prosperous and growing; her people seem exceptionally contented and certainly they have all the noble virtues of cordial hospitality and generosity characteristic of Southern people of the old style, while they display an energy that speaks well for the future of their beautiful town.

The schools of Wilson deserve their fame, and we feel assured that there is a golden future awaiting them.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to one of the Sewing Machine wagons of the Howe Sewing Machine Company dashed off from the front of the office yesterday, and started down Fayetteville st. at Gilpin speed. The wagon came in contact with a tree in front of Carmer's drug store and being seriously damaged refused to go any further. The horse, however, went on and if he has not stopped is yet going. Damages $50.

THE FIRST BOLL.—Mr. James H. Cooper, who farms upon the land of Henry Mordecai, Esq., near this city has brought into our office the first cotton boll we have seen this season. He exhibited to us last year also the first boll.

AND STILL ANOTHER.—The Charlotte Observer of Thursday, says: St. Peter's Church of this city was crowded by an immense throng last night, the occasion being the marriage of Johnstone Jones, Esq., editor of the Daily Observer, to Miss Bettie Waters Miller, of this city, daughter of the late Thos. C. Miller, of Wilmington. At about 9 o'clock, the organ, which was managed by Prof. L. Von Meyerhoff, pealed forth its notes, and the bridal party entered the church. The attendants were as follows:

Allen Jones, Miss Mary Miller.
Col. H. C. Jones, Miss Annie Jones.
Captain R. D. Graham, Miss Jennie Davis.
Wiley Jones, Miss Connie Myers.
Robert S. Phifer, Miss Mamie Wilson.
Richard Moore, Miss Alice Davidson.
Eli B. Springs, Miss Annie Lucas.
Joseph P. Caldwell, Miss Rebecca Miller.

The marriage was performed by Rev. B. S. Bronson, Rector of the church, and the ceremony throughout was most beautiful and impressive.

The bride, one of the most accomplished and fascinating young ladies of the city, was exquisitely beautiful in her long flowing bridal robes. Of the appearance which the groom-editor presented, it would probably not be good taste for us to speak.

AN ESTIMABLE CITIZEN.—We think that when a citizen by his conduct deserves public notice and public approbation he should receive it, and we unhesitating affirm that no man in Raleigh has done as much as Mr. R. S. Pullen for the cause of education.

He has given his time and money for the providing of suitable buildings for the Raleigh Female Seminary, and this school stands as a monument to his generosity, and if we mistake not, the Peace Institute has also shared his liberality.

FIRST ASSISTANT CHIEF ENGINEER.—H. T. Clawson, Esq., Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of this city has appointed R. T. Bosher, Esq, as his First Assistant. Mr. Clawson has made a wise selection, and one which will do him much credit.

PEACE INSTITUTE.—Especial attention is directed to the advertisement of the opening of the Fall Session of Peace Institute. The Institute, under the excellent management of the Messrs. Burwell, stands second to none in this country, and parents and guardians have only to judge by its great success as to its standing and position. Lack of space in this issue prevents a more lengthy notice, but we shall take occasion to refer to the subject again.

TUESDAY.....JULY 1, 1873.

THE FUTURE OF THE BOYS OF RALEIGH.

The many improvements visible on all sides in the city of Raleigh give good augury that a future of prosperity and thrift is in store for the capital of the State.

It is with pleasure we note in almost every direction new buildings either recently completed or in the course of erection. If the signs of the times do not wofully deceive us, there is every prospect that Raleigh will continue to increase in population, commercial importance and wealth so rapidly that it will in a very few years become one of the most prosperous cities in the South.

In one respect, however, our city is not only not making any advancement, but seems to be actually retrograding. We refer to the educational facilities offered to the boys of Raleigh.

We can boast of three first class female institutions of learning, in which both the solid and ornamental branches are taught, and in which the course of instruction is about as extensive and thorough as that of the female colleges of the land. Of St. Mary's, the Baptist Female Seminary and the Peace Institute, any city North or South might with just reason be proud. The daughters of North Carolina need not go beyond the borders of the State in search of schools of superior grade, more competent instructors or better training for the mind, the manners and the heart. With such schools as these in our midst, there is every assurance that the standard of female intelligence will not depreciate, but will keep pace with the progress and success of the excellent institutions we have named above.

But how stands it with our male schools? The Raleigh Academy is the only boys' school within the corporate limits of the city. The building itself is no credit to the city. It is without paint, dilapidated, decaying. It is in a vicinity in which numerous elegant private residences have sprung up within the last three or four years. The Academy and grounds are the property of the State, and the present teachers hold by a precarious tenure and are at best but tenants at will. A simple resolution of the Legislature may at any moment turn them out, and thus shut off entirely from the light of mental training our present generation of male students.

At our three large female schools, there were nearly three hundred pupils in attendance during the last scholastic year. At the Raleigh Male Academy, young ladies attending the female seminaries, many were from different sections of this and other States. But putting the Raleigh female pupils at about one-half the whole number, we then have three times as many female as we have male students.

This ratio makes a very gloomy showing for the intellectual future of the boys of Raleigh. At this rate, the future young ladies will be far superior in mental culture and accomplishments to the future young men who are soon to take their positions in society, if intelligence, refinement and literary attainments constitute superiority.

There are numbers of boys in Raleigh either idle or employed behind the counter at petty clerkships to learn business, who ought this day to be at school. Nothing can compensate for the absence of mental discipline. Parents who may not desire that their boys shall pursue any of the learned professions, seem to think that the advantages of education can be dispensed with. This may be true, where mediocrity in any business is aimed at; but the hope of the country is in the power and influence of well-trained minds in every vocation and trade. Educated merchants, bankers, mechanics and farmers are needed as well as educated lawyers and physicians.

It is time our citizens were waking up to the importance of educating their sons as well as their daughters. There is no reason why Raleigh cannot establish as good male as female schools. To say nothing of the advantages that would accrue in a pecuniary view to the city generally, by having in our midst one or more flourishing male academies of the highest grade, a solemn obligation rests upon parents to see to it that their boys are kept at school until they are fitted by mental discipline and thorough instruction to become not only useful members of society, but leading and influential citizens.

In these general remarks, which we propose to follow by others on the same subject, we of course have no reference to the instruction of our colored population, for whom some provision has been made by Northern associations, and whose schools, as they ought to be, are kept entirely separate and distinct from the whites. Nor do we intend, in lamenting the deficiencies for male instruction in Raleigh, to reflect upon the Principals of the Raleigh Academy, Messrs. Lovejoy and White, nor upon Mr. Trawick, who has a good school for boys outside of the city limits. The points we wish to make are, that female education is out of all proportion in advance of that of the males—that there is no necessity for this difference—that it is the duty of parents to educate their sons equally with their daughters—and that there are too many boys either idle or clerking who ought to be at school.

RAPID INCREASE OF CIRCULATION.

We are pleased to see frequent announcements in the Baltimore Gazette of large accessions to its subscription list.

The Gazette is one of our favorite papers, and in editorial ability is equal to any of our exchanges. In point of reliability we consider it superior to the New York World, and as an exponent of Southern sentiment it ranks in the very first class.

We would like to see the Gazette more largely circulated in North Carolina. It is an excellent paper in every respect. Its news and commercial departments are always full and reliable, and its editorials are always dignified, well-written and pointed. Its literary notes and art gossip are edited with taste and judgment. Our people who trade in Baltimore will find the Gazette valuable for its market reports. It is in every respect a number one paper and we can confidently recommend it.

THE THIRD TERM PRINCIPLE.

The Richmond reporters who interviewed Col. Mosby on his recent visit to that city, represent him as saying that the Southern people would vote for President Grant for the third term.

Bill Arp says, "when a Virginian falls he falls heavy and fur." Certainly Col. Mosby has far outstript most of Grant's Radical supporters at the North in his advocacy of his claims for re-election after the expiration of his present term.

It seems that Mosby has the ear of the President in regard the distribution of Federal offices in Virginia. The "Guerilla Chief" doubtless thinks that vacancies of office will occur in his State to such extent within the next eight years as to make Virginia thoroughly Radical, by a liberal distribution of patronage among such "seedy ex-Confederates" as are willing to lay down principle to take up office.

Mosby has method in his rashness when he speaks of supporting Grant for the next term.

One of our exchanges suggests that it will be wise in Congress, soon after it assembles, to pass an amendment to the Constitution, making the Presidential term six, instead of four years as now, and abolishing re-eligibility to the office. If it passes Congress, then the amendment must be submitted to the States for ratification.

We think this a good suggestion, and are inclined to favor it.

If the Constitution shall prohibit the the Presidential incumbent from holding office a second term, the President would not spend his time during his re-nomination and re-election. He would be more independent and fearless in the discharge of the duties of his high office for the good of the country. He could afford to act in an honest and straightforward manner, and would not fritter away his time in demagogical acts and in pandering to party prejudice, to keep himself in office.

CAREY, N. C., June 16th, 1873.

W. C. Morgan, General Agent, Raleigh, N. C:

DEAR SIR:—The machinery purchased from you gives entire satisfaction. The Shingle Machine will cut from 10,000 to 12,000 per day. The work is well and accurately done.

The Saw Mill is cutting lumber finely; the largest day's work I have done with it was 17,375 feet. I have been in the lumber business for twenty years. The Blandy Engine of 25 horse power will do about double the work that I have ever had one to do of same estimated horse power.

If machinery is needed in this neighborhood you will have no difficulty in selling. My mill is very much admired.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as its effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ears or tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally, this liniment is every where regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible!

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:

"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, and in various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an apperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."

Prepared by E. R. Beckwith, (successor to Dr. John Beckwith) Proprietor, Petersburg, Va. Sold by Druggist generally at 25 cents per box. Joseph Carr, Wholesale Agent, Petersburg, Va.

It will surprise many to know that General Washington, whilst he was President of the United States, drew his salary before it was due. Alexander Hamilton published a defence of the accounting officers for thus paying it; and Cobbett appended this foot-note:

"This abstract establishes one unpleasant and embarrassing fact—to wit, that General Washington, instead of refusing to accept of any salary (which his admirers have said was the case,) actually overdrew his salary, and had, from June, 1790, to June, 1795, constantly several thousands of dollars of the public money in his hands. Whether he really did let this money out at usurious interest, as it was asserted, will perhaps never be known."

Paul Carrol, a citizens of our county, who is thought to be in the last stage of consumption, and who has heretofore been very wicked, sent for a couple of ministers the other day to administer spiritual consolation in view of immediate death. The Greatest Excitement Out in Raleigh the Other Day.

A wagon full of men, women and children came tearing down Morgan street at full speed, but was fortunately stopped at the corner of Dawson, in front of J. W. Brown's store before any damage was done. On inquiry it was found that they had heard of the arrival of a number of those excellent lately introduced into our city by Mr. Brown, and were afraid all would be gone before they could get them. They, however, succeeded in getting a supply of them, as well as of the Oil which Mr. Brown is now manufacturing at his store, and which used with the "Vesta Gas Burner" gives a light equal in brilliancy to gas light, and costing far less, the fluid being only 35c per gallon.

A full supply still on hand, and citizens will do well to call AT ONCE. ju24-3t

SELECTED POETRY

THE GOOD OF IT.

A CYNIC'S SONG.

Some men strut proudly 'midst honors and gold,
Hiding strange deeds 'neath the shadow of fame;
I creep along, braving hunger and cold,
To keep my heart taintless, as well as my name,
So—so—where is the good of it?

Some clothe bare truth in fine garments of words,
Fetter her free limbs with purple and state:
With me, let me sit at the lordliest boards,
"I love" means I love; and "I hate" I hate,
But—but—where is the good of it?

Some have rich dainties and costly attire,
Guests flattering round them, and duns at the door;
I crouch by myself at my plain board and fire,
Enjoy what I pay for, and scorn to have more.
Yet—yet—where is the good of it?

Some gather round them a phalanx of "friends,"
Scattering professions like coins in a crowd;
I keep my heart close for the few that Heaven sends,
Where they'll find names writ when I lie in my shroud!
So—so—where is the good of it?

Some toy with love—light come, light go;
A blithe game at hearts—little worth, little cost;
I stake my whole soul, hope and peace on the throw,
A life 'gainst an hour's spark. We played and I lost!
Ha—ha—where's the good of it?

MORAL—ADDED ON HIS DEATH BED.

Turn the past mirror backward! Its shadows removed,
The dim confused mass grows all softened and sublime!
I have worked—I have felt—I have lived—I have loved,
And each was a step towards the mount I now climb!
Thou, God—Thou saw'st the good of it.

Dooley's Yeast Powder cannot be excelled for making light, sweet Rolls, Biscuits, Waffles, Corn Bread, &c. It is always ready and reliable.
